

Rebuttal

Recognize or craft an essential and skillful objection to your argument, based on the text in question. Demonstrate your complex understanding of the book by addressing a counter-argument. Avoid making a straw-man, an easily defeated response, which shows weakness in your argument, not your opponent's.

Next, refute your opponent's objection and defend your view, based on further evidence and argument.

